Nowadays sport becomes one of the main parts of people's life. Sport is a job, hobby and a way of self-development. Human beings starts to create new kinds of sport and popularize it in socum with help of TV, newspapers, radio and so on. Doing sport gets more and more popular.

But in fact, there is a big problem of teens doing sport nowadays. Healthy life is very valuable thing, every person faces problems with health in a modern life. To improve body and strength fitness exists. Teens are lazy, most of them start to gain weight, it is lead to adolescence obesity. Practising fitness is easier than doing others serious and hard kinds of sport, so fitness is the best choice for keeping in fit. Some teens start to adore an "easy sport" and dream about job in gym. When humans understood the important of being in fit, they started to propagandize healthy lifestyle in personal blogs, on TV. Some new programmes about health, diets and sport have appeared on TV. I think that appearance of fitness became a big luck for people, who doesn't like to move a lot or who cannot doing some kinds of sport because of their weak body. Popularization of healthy life made people rethink their habits etcetera.

Frankly speaking, everybody must make his or her own decision about keeping himself or herself in fit. We all understand that bad habits, awful health and weak body can be a reason of fast death, so only you right to choose how you will live your long life.
